Ivy Material Utilization Center Name Change

For Immediate Release

Charlottesville, VA – July 25, 2024

The Rivanna Solid Waste Authority is announcing that the Ivy Material Utilization Center on Dick Woods Road has been renamed the Ivy Solid Waste & Recycling Center. The Ivy Solid Waste & Recycling Center operates several different programs, including a municipal refuse and construction debris transfer program; a recycling convenience center which includes the recycling of paper, plastics, metals, oil, tires, as well as composting; and a vegetative debris and mulch grinding program. A baling facility will also be built at the site in the near future.

Bill Mawyer, the Executive Director of the Rivanna Solid Waste Authority said, “We continue to grow and improve the solid waste disposal and recycling programs we offer at the Ivy Solid Waste & Recycling Center. The new name better communicates the nature of those services to our community”.
